

LEAN AWARENESS WORKSHOP

The Lean Awareness workshop provides an introduction to lean tools and techniques through presentations and interactive workshops.

Awareness is the first step towards becoming a lean enterprise. Whether you produce a product or deliver a service, the need to improve performance has never been stronger. To be able to identify what customers value, to map how that value flows through the organisation and to effectively drive improvements is vital for any organisation.

The workshop will look at the introduction of lean across the enterprise and deal with the issues of change management, culture and managing people through the process. It will focus on lean and the opportunities available in the areas for reducing costs, improving productivity and becoming more responsive to customer demands, a key competitive advantage.
